The challenge & objectives

An industry as large and competitive as care services requires punchy, informative content that will get a business noticed and more importantly – benefit their search engine rankings, improving the websites chances of being found on Google and Bing.

Solution

The client completed a content brief with key points about AMKay Care and the services they provide. We then set to work on keyword research in order to optimise the content writing for effective search engine results.

AMKay Care were very specific with how they wanted the content writing to translate to potential clients, considering the nature of their business. Part of the business is recruiting care staff, therefore they needed to target potential employees, and requested to keep the recruitment page specifically, simplified as possible, yet professional and informative – so it was crucial to keep these points in mind.

Results

Four pages of content were written for the website's key pages, allowing AMKay Care to promote the business as knowledgeable and credible in their field, whilst increasing their visibility on search engines.
